And we're excited to share that behind-the-scenes photos from the event reveal some pretty amazing details about the store. From the plush neon lights to the full, walk-in, beauty shampoo/hair treatments (every customer was offered both) to the oversized mirrors, the store's powder room is a prime example of how to make a wall flaunt its presence. Of course, you're not going to find much help on how to make your own Italian Ice—you'll just have to take our word for it: you've gotta use those three classic ingredients: water, flavoring and high-quality powdered sugar! From now until the store opens for business, it's tempting to play the ultimate game of 'what's behind that door?'—and we can't wait for you to get inside, what with our own sneak peek! Note: Exciting Italian Ice news! Please contact our office with any questions regarding our new store. The grand opening is TOMORROW!Q: How to decompress file without reading to memory? I have been trying to read the contents of a file to memory and then decompress it, but I've been told that this is extremely inefficient, so I would like to try to find another way. I can't imagine any, but after being told this, I have been trying to find some details about how it is possible to decompress a gzip file without reading it in memory. A: You may
